

Art is a reflection of ourselves !

Through our ongoing "living with art" series, we invite you to discover art in a home setting. For the last few months, we've spent most of our time at home, and we have by now realized that art is an essential component of our life. It is fundamental for our well-being, happiness and has the power to sustain us through challenges.

Discovering art is a fascinating experience: from the sound of your feet on the floor, the light, the story behind the artwork and the journey of the artists. All this will influence the way you will understand and get inspired by a piece of art ! "Art represents our mood and emotions : art is a reflection of ourselves. " We believe inspiring our viewers to visualize their "dream space" is important, we are here to guide you through the process and to get the positive energy circulating throughout your home. In this edition, we are pleased to introduce our international portrait artist "Maizianne". Stay safe, well, and creative.

Truly yours,

FALL EDITION 2020
Introducing MAIZIANNE

Click image to listen and learn about Maizianne's world !

MAIZIANNE is a New York based figurative and abstract portrait painter. Her inspiration mainly comes from women's portraits and families. She will transform them into her own interpretation by capturing their beauty and story, while conveying an emotion or unveiling a hidden part of their personality. Besides the message, the color and aesthetics are of utmost importance. Her process is completely spontaneous; each piece starts with layers of acrylic colors and added texture. She will use any painting tools within grasp (knife, fork, corks, etc...). This whole process creates an abstract background where one can let his imagination wander. She would like the viewer to identify himself with the subject and associate his personal memories or feelings to what is viewed.

Eyes are the focal point of Maizianne's abstract figurative portraits. She explains: "They are the window to the soul. Their gaze makes it hard for the viewer not to look or stare back and perceive the emotions, feeling of the painting as well."

"Art can bring people together, just like the black lives matter movement. If the society treats black unequally it is like depriving them of one sense (represented by the bright red crosses) which gives them a major handicap in life."

"This image is a fusion of powerful female energetics, including Alixa & Naima of Climbing PoeTree and crafted work by Swoon, one of the first woman to gain international recognition in street art. The taro root is a food staple in much of the world. In Hawaii, fighting is not allowed when a bowl of taro poi is served. This photograph was selected for the White House permanent collection in 2008, and I was invited to spend time with the first family under the Obama Administration."
